Netgear C6300 problems? - [Solved]

2019/07/17

Hi, just recently I got an asus AC1900P which is an amazing router, but I have ran into a problem. I have an ethernet cable running through to my modem (yes, the router mode is shut off on it, so no wireless, and the wifi button won't turn on the wifi because I have router mode disabled) and I cannot access the settings page. So I attempted changing the IP address of the router, so I can access the modem, thought that was the issue, that didn't work. I then proceeded to unplug the router from the modem, and forced a restart on the modem, that also didn't work. I tried pinging the address of the modem, with 100% packet loss, but the internet connection works fine. And a while back I had a different router before it, a R6900v2, which was a total piece of worthless crap, went through three and NONE worked right, and I had this SAME problem also, and the reset button on the modem WILL NOT work. Netgear has screwy products, I refuse to buy anymore netgear products. But yeah, any help is appreciated. Thanks.
